

NEW PASTURES PRIMARY SCHOOL ACCESSIBILITY PLAN

2022- 2025

New Pastures Primary School believes that it has a welcoming, happy and safe environment where all children are challenged to achieve their very best. We are committed to giving all of our children every opportunity to achieve the highest of standards. We do this by taking account of pupils' varied life experiences and needs. We offer a broad and balanced curriculum and have high expectations for all children. The achievements, attitudes and well-being of all our children matter.

Purpose of the Plan

Our school responds effectively to children and adults with disabilities and we recognise the importance of a review and planning procedure associated with continuous development and improvement. It is our intention to remove, as far as we can, those barriers which make it hard for children and adults with a disability to take part in the day to day life of our school and benefit from the educational experiences and services we provide.

This plan shows how the school intends, over a period of time, to increase the accessibility of the school for disabled pupils, staff, parents/carers and visitors.

Definition of Disability

The Equality Act 2010 defines disability as a 'physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'

This definition provides a relatively low threshold and includes more children than many realise: 'long-term' is defined as 'a year or more' and 'substantial' is defined as 'more than minor or trivial'. This definition includes sensory impairments such as those affecting sight or hearing, and long-term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, and cancer. Some specified medical conditions, HIV, multiple sclerosis and cancer are all considered as disabilities, regardless of their effect. Children and young people with such conditions do not necessarily have SEND, but there is a significant overlap between disabled children and young people and those with SEND.

The Equality Act 2010 sets out the legal obligations that schools, early years providers, post-16 institutions, local authorities and others have towards disabled children and young people:

- They must not directly or indirectly discriminate against, harass or victimise disabled children and young people
- They must not discriminate for a reason arising in consequence of a child or young person's disability
- They must make reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services, to ensure that disabled children and young people are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.
- This duty is anticipatory - it requires thought to be given in advance to what disabled children and young people might require and what adjustments might need to be made to prevent that disadvantage.
- Schools are allowed to treat disabled children / young people more favourably than non-disabled children / young people, and in some cases are required to do so, by making reasonable adjustments and making changes to practices to ensure, as far as is reasonably possible, that a disabled person can benefit from what the school's offer to the same extent that a person without that disability can i.e. to put them on a more level footing with children / young people without disabilities
- Public bodies, including further education institutions, local authorities, maintained schools, maintained nursery schools, academies and free schools are covered by the public sector equality duty and, when carrying out their functions, must have regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, promote equality of opportunity and foster good relations between disabled and non-disabled children and young people. Public bodies also have specific duties under the public sector equality duty and must publish information to demonstrate their compliance with this general duty and must prepare and publish objectives to achieve the core aims of the general duty. Objectives must be specific and measurable.

The duties cover discrimination in the provision of services and the provision of education, including admissions and exclusions. All providers must make reasonable adjustments to procedures, criteria and practices and by the provision of auxiliary aids and services.

Areas of planning responsibilities

- Increasing access for disabled pupils to the school curriculum (this includes teaching and learning and the wider curriculum of the school such as participation in after-school clubs, leisure and cultural activities or school visits)
- Improving access to the physical environment of schools (this includes improvements to the physical environment of the school and physical aids to access education)
- Improving the delivery of written information to disabled pupils (this will include planning to make written information that is normally provided by the school to its pupils available to disabled pupils. The information should take account of pupils' disabilities and pupils' and parents' preferred formats and be made available within a reasonable timeframe.

Contextual Information

- New Pastures Primary School is a split site school. Both buildings are one storey and have disabled facilities and toilets. Wheelchair access is available into the main building. There is disabled parking on site at the upper school car park.
- At present we have no wheelchair dependent pupils, parents or members of staff.

The School's Aims

At New Pastures School we aim for our children to be the very best that they can be.

- To be literate and numerate
- To be self motivated with lively enquiring minds
- To be able to communicate effectively and have excellent social skills
- To respect themselves and others as individuals regardless of race, religion, culture, gender or ability
- To take calculated risks to solve problems for themselves in an environment where it is safe to fail and then try again, rejoicing in success
- To be able to work as an individual or as part of a team, knowing when to ask for help and when to give support to others

- To think and act creatively in everything they do
- To be a well-rounded citizen who is able to cope with the demands of the modern world
- To be a lifelong learner

The School's Vision

At New Pastures Primary School our vision is for our children to be well educated through a rich and varied curriculum, becoming self motivated, confident learners who have a desire to achieve more each day.

All adults who work in our school are expected to work and behave in such a way as to actively promote our school vision and are bound by a code of confidentiality. At New Pastures Primary School we put the interests and needs of its pupils first. Our school develops those qualities of character that best equip a young person for happiness, achievement and the ability to make a worthwhile contribution to society.

We promote enjoyment and independence in learning and aim to make every child a learner for life. We work hand in hand in partnership with our parents and with the wider community to ensure that our pupils can learn and flourish in an environment where they are inspired to take on bigger and greater challenges, building upon successes and confidentiality learning from mistakes.

The Current Range of Disabilities Within New Pastures Primary School

- The school has children with a range of disabilities which include moderate and specific learning difficulties. When children enter school with specific disabilities, the school contacts the LA professionals for assessments, support and guidance for the school and parents.
- We have a number of children who have asthma and all staff are aware of these children. Each child with asthma has a health care plan, and inhalers are kept in a personalised box in classrooms.
- We have competent First Aiders and Paediatric who hold current First Aid certificates. All medication is kept in a central safe and secure place which has easy access for First Aiders and staff members. Administration of Medicines consent forms are filled in by parents outlining the illness and amount and time of medication. All medication that is given is recorded.

Increasing access for disabled pupils to the school curriculum

- Improving teaching and learning lies at the heart of the school's work. Through self-review and Continuous Professional Development (CPD), we aim to enhance staff knowledge, skills and understanding to promote outstanding teaching and learning for all children. We aim to meet every child's needs within mixed ability, inclusive classes.
- It is a core value of the school that all children are enabled to participate fully in the broader life of the school. Consequently, all children have always been permitted to attend age relevant after school clubs, leisure and cultural activities and educational visits. The only exception would occur if a child had breached school rules when deprivation of club attendance may be used as a suitable short term sanction and to ensure the safety of others.

Improving the Delivery of Written Information to Disabled Pupils

This will include planning to make written information that is normally provided by the school to its pupil's available to disabled pupils. Examples may include handouts, textbooks and information about school events. The information should take account of pupils' disabilities and pupils' and parents' preferred formats and be made available within a reasonable timescale.

In planning to make written information available to disabled pupils we again need to establish the current level of need and be able to respond to changes in the range of need. The school will need to identify agencies and sources of such materials to be able to make the provision when required. The schools IT infrastructure will enable us to access a range of materials supportive to need.

Improving access to the physical environment of the school

- New Pastures Primary School is continuing to grow and develop, Provision, in exceptional cases, will be negotiated when a pupil's specific needs are known.
- We have a wide range of equipment and resources available for day to day use. We keep resource provision under constant review. The schools improvement planning process is the vehicle for considering such needs on an annual basis.
